Hi,

We are focusing on Ed for Doug Ford's visit this week.

IMs, if you and your Press Secs can you find places for your Ministers to sprinkle this into their social media throughout the weekend that would be great. You can also post these to your own social (Calgary team you too).

Lindsay, can you book a time for Eggen to prep with Sam, me and/or Greta Friday and also plan to have Eggen do a rotunda avail Friday early afternoon. We can discuss logistics further tomorrow.

Doug Ford's Record on Education

Main Message:

- The 'bromance' blossoming between Jason Kenney and Doug Ford is nothing less than disturbing.
- Ford has made his intentions for education clear: gut the classrooms, cut $100 million for much-needed school repairs and punish teachers for teaching a modern day sex-ed curriculum. Ontario's students no longer learn about topics like consent, gender identity, and technology safety. To make matters worse, in response to teachers who are outraged by these changes, Premier Ford set up a phoneline for parents to report any teachers who continue to teach these topics.
- In Jason Kenney's own words, his "bromance" with Doug Ford is such that they "finish each other's sentences." So we can see clearly that a Premier Jason Kenney would follow Doug Ford's lead on education.
- Albertans are proud of our education system and believe it is government's job to work everyday to defend it.
- That is what our government has been doing, and we know that undermining teachers and slashing funding is not how to go about it. Kenney has been clear he wants to return to 2015 spending levels. That would mean 4,000 fewer teachers in Alberta classrooms. We've seen this all before and can't let it happen again.

Doug Ford's Record on Education

Investments in Education:

- We have hired almost 4,000 new teacher and support staff since to keep up with growing enrolment.
- We have properly funded 244 school construction and modernization projects, 144 of which are now complete. These schools accommodated 50,000 students.
- Saving families $60 million annually in school fees.
- We are feeding 33,000 students per day as a result of our school nutrition program.
- We are investing $77 million through the Classroom Improvement Fund that will allow for the hiring of 400 new specialized teaching and support staff positions in the 2017-18 school year.
- We are modernizing the Alberta curriculum with a $64-million investment this year alone. Tens of thousands of Albertans have participated through surveys, in person meetings with department, and community roundtables (73,000 survey responses received to date, almost 5,000 people attended in person sessions).
- Investing $25.5 million over 4 years into new playgrounds for community schools.

FYI – with the anti-carbon tax rally in Calgary on Friday (with Premier Ford), intel from ASSIST suggests there will be an Alberta Pro-Choice Coalition protest set to coincide.

Hi Evan and Kate – I assume you are aware of this but we wanted to pass it on just in case. Summary below – this wasn't sent to P/Issues or our MO.

Our EPU was informed that Premier Ford will be attending an event at the BMO Centre in Calgary with Jason Kenny, tomorrow at 1730 Hrs. The event is an anti-carbon tax rally and the intel from ASSIST is that there will be an Alberta Pro-Choice Coalition protest set to coincide with the Kenny function. The assessment from ASSIST anticipates, at this time, the protest will remain well within Charter protected thresholds. If that changes, Bill will let us know. We have assigned Keith Brackman to assist Premier Ford's security team.

Lee,

Just FYI. My apologies for not sending this earlier. Premier Ford is visiting our province and will be attending an event at the BMO Centre with Jason Kenny, tomorrow at 1730 Hrs. The event is an anti-carbon tax rally and the intel from ASSIST is that there will be an Alberta Pro-Choice Coalition protest set to coincide with the Kenny function. The assessment from ASSIST anticipates, at this time, the protest will remain well within Charter protected thresholds. If that changes, I'll let you know. We have assigned Keith Brackman to assist Premier Ford's security team and plans for this event are well in hand.

There is no indication at this time that Premier Ford will meet with our Premier.

Here's what I propose for Eggen's social: a Facebook post with photo of Kenney and Ford and a twitter thread that starts with a tweet and the photo attached. This text is a little different than what Greta has below, so someone can feel free to edit if they think it needs it.

According to Jason Kenney, he's having a "bromance" with Doug Ford. As a former teacher and now Education Minister, here's why I think that should scare Alberta parents and families:

In just a few short months in office, Ford has cut $100-million from badly needed school repairs and is punishing teachers for a modern day sex ed curriculum. Ontario's students no longer learn about topics like consent, gender identity, and technology safety. And now Ford has set up a snitch line to report on teachers who continue to teach these topics.

Jason Kenney says he and Ford "finish each other's sentences" – does that mean Kenney's UCP will follow Ford's lead on education? Albertans deserve to know.

Twitter thread:

Subject: RE: Final notes for Eggen for Friday

How about this?

Let's get one thing straight: whatever it is Jason Kenney and Doug Ford are getting together to do, it's not to announce a position they took years ago.

Premier Ford has gutted classrooms, cut $100 million for much-needed school repairs and come up with a snitch line to punish teachers for teaching modern day sex-ed curriculum. As a former teacher, watching Jason Kenney cozy up to him and his plan behind this fig leaf rally is disturbing.

I know this is the type of reckless cuts and backwards thinking Jason Kenney would yield if he had the chance. 24(1)(a)

Our government continues to put Alberta families and children first, by investing in 32,000 new learning spaces, building badly needed schools, launching a school nutrition program and making sure students have a teacher in their classroom.

Non-responsive. Can you take education notes and fold them into a couple tweets and an FB post for posting after his scrum Friday afternoon?

I will attend the prep along with Greta and Sam. Lindsay, can you print these notes off prior please?
